Continuation of 3. NOTE: Applicant's submission of evidentiary journal articles by Levite et al. and Ganor et al. comprise new issues, and Applicant has not provided a sufficient reason why the evidence was not presented earlier.

Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicant argues that the finality of the previous office action was premature, and requests that the finality of the office action be withdrawn. Specifically, Applicant argues that the new rejection under 102 as being anticipated by Winters et al. was not necessitated by Applicant's amendment, since the subject matter of previous claim 14 was drawn to administering glutamate to T cells ex vivo and administering the T cells. The elected invention is drawn to a method comprising administering glutamate to T cells in-vitro/ex-vivo. Claim 14 was previously withdrawn from consideration since it was dependent from claim 12 which was drawn to administration of glutamate to a subject (i.e. in vivo administration of glutamate). None of the claims previously presented claims (including claim 14) recited the step of administering T cells. Claim 14 merely recited that the glutamate is administered ex-vivo. The previously cited art taught administration of glutamate to T cells ex-vivo (i.e. the subject matter of original claim 14). However, Applicant's amendment cancelling the previously pending claims, and adding new claims reciting the step of administering T cells necessitated the new grounds of rejection..
